Admiralty Office, Auguſt 15.

Extract of a Letter from Commodore Keppel to Mr. Clevland, dated in Belleiſle Road, the 28th of July, 1761.

I Yeſterday received Letters from Sir Thomas Stanhope in Baſque Road, Extract of which I here incloſe you. The Enemy's ſecond Attempt to remove the Ships attending the Demolition of the Works upon Aix, has been as ineffectual and diſgraceful to them as their firſt was. The indefatigable Pains and ſkilful Manner in which Capt. Chaplen, of the Furnace Bomb, has directed the Deſtroying the Enemy's Fortifications and Works upon the Iſland, has been ſuch, that it would be Injuſtice in me not to acquaint their Lordſhips of it. The Whole is now finiſhed, or within a Day of being ſo, when it will be unneceſſary to keep the Ships any longer ſo near the Iſland; and the Enemy may then, if they pleaſe, take a View of the Ruins.

Extract of a Letter from Sir Thomas Stanhope, to Commodore Keppel, dated in Baſque Road, July 22, 1761.

YESTERDAY Morning, about Eight o' Clock, the ſix Prames that were in the Paſſe des Filles, attended by ſome Row-Gallies, and a great Number of Launches, crowded with Men, dropt down upon the firſt of the Ebb, and placed themſelves between the Iſle D'Enet and Fort Fouras, from whence they played on our Ships in Aix Road, with twelve Mortars, and upwards of ſeventy Pieces of heavy Cannon, till paſt Two o' Clock; when the Reception they had met with from His Majeſty's Ships obliged them to retire with Diſgrace to their former Station.

I herewith incloſe you the Report of Captain Parker, of His Majeſty's Ship Buckingham, who directed the Operations on this Service.

Extract of a Letter from Captain Parker, of His Majeſty's Ship Buckingham, to Sir Thomas Stanhope, dated in Aix Road, July 22, 1761.

AT Seven o' Clock Yeſterday Morning, the Enemy's ſix Prames, looſed their Topſails, and got under Way, attended by ſome Row-Gallies, and a Number of large Boats and Launches full of Men. They ſtood towards us with a Land-Wind, in a cloſe line a-head; and from that Motion, and the Number of Men, I judged they intended to attack us with Reſolution; but they ſoon hauled their Wind, and brought up in a regular Line upon the Shoals, about two Gun-Shots from us, and at a Quarter paſt Nine began to bombard. In leſs than Half an Hour they got the Diſtance exact, and we veered away, to be out of the Range of their Shells; but we found that when we veered, they weighed Anchor, dropped with the Tides, and ſtill preſerved their Diſtance: On which, all the Ships hove a-head, expecting that they had neared us ſo much as to bring them within Reach of our Cannon, and we imagined that ſeveral of our Shot ſtruck them. At half an Hour after Eleven, our own Long-Boats, and thoſe of the Ships in Baſque Road, came to aſſiſt us; and the Ebb-Tide being almoſt ſpent, we prepared to warp nearer the Enemy: About the ſame Time the Actæon, Fly, and Blaſt Sloop, joined us: The two latter I ordered to keep under Sail, and the former to range along the Prames, and to give them her Broad-ſide as ſhe paſſed, in order to amuſe them, and draw their Attention from the Boats employed in carrying out Warps, and from throwing Shells at the Line of Battle Ships, many of which fell as near as was poſſible without touching.

At half paſt Twelve the Actæon ran aground on the Tail of the Pall Bank: The Boats were immediately diſpatched with Stream-Anchors and Hawſers to her Aſſiſtance, and about Two o'Clock ſhe floated. This Accident prevented all the Ships from warping, except the Naſſau, who was directed to cover the Actæon; and ſhe laid out Warps, which obliged five of the Prames (the Tide of Flood now making) to retreat to their former Moorings, and the other to get under the Cannon on the South Point of Oleron. During the Bombardment, Captain Chaplen threw from the Furnace thirty-two Shells, which were extremely well directed. This Morning one of the five Prames dropped with the Flood above the Men of War in the River.

Before I conclude this Letter, I muſt beg Leave (in Juſtice to Captain Ourry) to acquaint you, that he executed my Orders with the greateſt Bravery and Reſolution, and ſhewed a Spirit and Addreſs becoming the Character of a Britiſh Officer.

The Actæon had four Men killed, and one wounded, and a great Part of her Rigging cut. One of the Fore-Puttock-Shrowds, and the Mizen-Top-ſail Braces of the Buckingham, were ſhot away. One of the Enemy's Shells fell under the Naſſau's Counter, lifted the Ship a little, drove in two Trunnels, and ſhook her whole Frame. Several Shells fell alſo very near the Monmouth and Buckingham. We are now certain of the Weight of Metal which the Prames carry, one of their Shot being on Board the Actæon, and weighs upwards of thirty-eight Pounds.

Admiralty-Office, Auguſt 15.

Captain Elphinſton, of His Majeſty's Ship Richmond, gives an Account, in his Letter dated in Yarmouth Roads the 9th Inſtant, That, during the Time he was on the Coaſt of Norway, he took a French Privateer called Le Faucheur, with ſix Carriage and eight Swivel Guns, and 40 Men, commanded by M. Artu, with one Ranſomer on board.

Berlin,

Berlin, Auguſt 2. General Laudohn having received a Reinforcement of five Regiments, entred Sileſia by Wartha and Peterſwaldau. Upon this, the King of Pruſſia's Army decamped from Pultzen the 21ſt of July, and marched to Sigroth. The Army continued its March the 22d towards Munſterberg, where General Brentano, with his Corps, had come to occupy a Camp for the Auſtrian Army. His Pruſſian Majeſty ordered the Enemy's Cavalry to be attacked, who were immediately diſlodged from the Camp, and from the Town of Munſterberg; and, on this Occaſion, the Pruſſians made 150 Fouriers Priſoners. The Auſtrian Army encamped on the Heights of Lobedau, about half a German Mile diſtant from Patſchkau. The 23d, the King of Pruſſia marched with his Army to Gieſmanſdorff, diſtant about Half a German Mile from Neiſſe. On the 28th, his Pruſſian Majeſty's Head Quarter was ſtill at Gieſmanſdorff. The Enemy continued encamped near Patſchkau, the King of Pruſſia having, by the Celerity of his Marches, prevented them from joining the Ruſſian Army, which had left, on the 25th, the Camp of Namſlau, and was drawing more and more towards the Higher Sileſia. General Knoblauch, who commands at preſent the Corps which oppoſes the Ruſſians, is advanced as far as Ohlau; and General Ziethen, with his Corps, is poſted at Mucheln. General Romanzow remains quiet in the Camp of Coeſlin, waiting for the Arrival of the Fleet, which, on the 17th, was diſperſed, and greatly damaged by a Storm. Letters of the 25th from Dantzick ſay, that the Fleet was not then got together; that a Tranſport, with 220 Men, had periſhed; and that ſeveral others had been driven a-ſhore. On the 19th of July, the Swedes paſſed the Peene at Pribeſees. Lieutenant Colonel Goltz, in retiring with the ſmall Garriſon at Demmin, loſt an hundred Men at Malchin; and at Damgarten the Enemy made a Lieutenant and 20 Huſſars Priſoners; but Colonel Belling, having joined Lieutenant Colonel Goltz at Malchin, attacked the Enemy on the 20th at Verchen, made thirty Priſoners, and killed a great Number of them, among whom are three Officers. Colonel Belling afterwards occupied the Poſt of Treptow, where he continues to make Head againſt the vaſt Superiority of the Enemy. Some Battalions of the Garriſon of Stettin are marched to his Aſſiſtance. By Letters of the 27th of July from Schlettau, we are informed, that nothing remarkable had then happened in Saxony. On the 16th, General Laſcy was encamped at Groſs Dobritz, about a German Mile diſtant from Groſſen Hayn; his advanced Poſts extended along the Banks of the Elbe as far as Strehln. The Pruſſian Detachment of Light Troops, in the Neighbourhood of Torgau, has been reinforced; and, a few Days ago, they ſurpriſed one of the Enemy's Poſts, conſiſting of one Officer and twelve Men of the Regiment of Lowenſtein. The Army of the Empire, under the Command of General Serbelloni, have quitted the Camp at Reichenbach, and have occupied that of Kenneburg in the Country of Altenbourg. A detached Corps of that Army, under the Orders of Generals Nauendorff and Kleteld, had taken a Camp at Poenig; but upon the Approach of Colonel Kleiſt, who was detached the 25th, General Nauendorff retired in the Night with ſo much Precipitation, that Colonel Kleiſt made but one Officer and ten Men Priſoners. Marſhal Daun has ſtill his Head Quarter at Dreſden; and his Army occupies the Camps of Plauen and Deppoldiſwalda, except the Corps of General Laſcy, at Groſs Dobritz. Generals O'Donel and Sincere are returned with three Regiments to Dreſden, from the Frontiers of Sileſia.

Hambourg, Auguſt 7. Laſt Night we received the News, that the King of Pruſſia had, by his Motions, obliged General Butterlin, who was at Namſlaw, to return back towards Wartenberg, upon the Confines of Poland. That his Majeſty was yet at Geiſmandorff; and General Laudohn at Patſckow; and, from the King's Poſition, it would prove extremely difficult for the Ruſſians to join the Auſtrians.

Stockem, Auguſt 8. Laſt Night we were alarmed, about Six o'Clock, by the Appearance of a ſmall Body of Light Troops from the Allied Army; there were not Thirty Men. However, they ſurprized, attacked, beat, and diſperſed the Auſtrian Guard of about Seventy Men, that were here to protect about Sixty-five Pontons, the greateſt Part mounted on their Carriages, and ready to march. They burnt the Pontons, and a ſmall Magazine belonging to the French, and then marched towards Lonnaken.

This Party, as the Soldiers ſaid, was commanded by the Chevalier de Donceel, who is lately entered into the Service of the Allied Army.

Hague, Auguſt 11. Prince Ferdinand's Head Quarters were ſtill at Buren on the 5th. The Prince of Soubize marched on the 4th to Iſerlohn and Menden, towards the Rhine. The Hereditary Prince had a ſmart Skirmiſh with his advanced Corps, on the 28th ult. in which Prince Frederick of Brunſwick received a ſmall Contuſion in his Right Arm. Marſhal Broglio, by our laſt Accounts, was encamped between Dribourg and Warbourg. General Luckner had attacked his Rear Guard at Lipſpringk, and deſtroyed the Corps of Volontaires de Broglio. Count Lutace was employed in obſerving General Luckner at Blomberg. A Body of 16 or 18 Battalions, and as many Squadrons, under Lieutenant General de Stainville, had taken poſt between Vreken and Heddinghauſen; but Prince Ferdinand attacked him on the 5th, and, after an Action of three or four Hours, diſlodged him from his advantageous Poſition, and obliged him to abandon the Paſs of Stadtbergen. The French were fortifying Hoxter.

By the laſt Letters from Sileſia, which are of the Beginning of this Month, the King of Pruſſia, upon the Ruſſians turning towards Breſlau, had made a Motion towards Neuſtadel, where he made General Ziethen join him. He afterwards left that General there, and marched himſelf to Oppersdorff. General Laudohn was at Johannisberg; the Ruſſian Grand Army in the ſame Poſition beyond the Order; and General Czernichew at Bernſtadt. In different Skirmiſhes which had happened, the Pruſſians had taken ſeveral Officers and Soldiers Priſoners.

Office of Works, Auguſt 6, 1761.

HIS Majeſty's Board of Works having received an Order from the Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee appointed to conſider of His Majeſty's Coronation, to ſurvey all Scaffolds and Places (for the Safety and Security of His Majeſty's Subjects) already made for Spectators, as well as thoſe not yet begun; and alſo to take Care no Encroachment be made in thoſe Streets and Places where the Proceſſion is to paſs: The Board of Works, in Obedience to the ſaid Order, give Notice to all Perſons concerned, to take the greateſt Care that the ſaid Scaffolds be erected in ſuch Places, and in ſuch Manner, as may render them perfectly ſecure, or they will be obliged to have them taken down, according to the Directions given by their Lordſhips in the ſaid Order of Council. DR. JAMES's Powder for FEVERS, and other Inflammatory Distempers, published by Virtue of His MAJESTY's ROYAL LETTERS PATENT, will remove (as has been experienced in many Thousand Cases) any continual acute Fever in a few Hours, though attended with Convulsions, Light-headedness, and the worst Symptoms: But if taken in the Beginning of a Fever, one Dose is generally sufficient to perform a Cure. *

It is likewise a most effectual Remedy for all internal Inflammation, Pleurisies, Quinsies, acute Rheumatisms, and the Lowness of Spirits, and Uneasinesses proceeding from slow and latent Fevers, which are generally mistaken for Vapours and Hysterics; it is extremely effectual in the Small-Pox, Measles, and St. Anthony's Fire; and a single Dose remarkably stops the Progress of a Cold, and certainly prevents the ill Consequences arising from that very common Disorder, the Source of almost all Distempers.

This Powder (which is a very safe and pleasant Medicine to take) is sold by J. Newbery at the Bible and Sun in St. Paul's Church Yard, London; and by J. Hoey, jun. in Skinner Row, Dublin; at 2s. 6d. the two Doses, with good Allowance to those who buy it for charitable Uses, or to sell again.

* See a Dissertation on Fevers, and other Inflammatory Distempers, sold at the Places above-mentioned. Price 6d.

MAtthew Drakeford, of Cannock in the County of Stafford, and Lewis Dickenson, of Stafford in the said County of Stafford, Executors of the last Will and Testament of Richard Drakeford, Esq; late of Fotbridge near Stafford aforesaid, deceased, and heretofore of Cosport in Hampshire, give Notice, That if any Person or Persons have an Demand upon the Estate or Effects of the said Richard Drakeford, deceased, (at present unknown to the said Executors) they are desired forthwith to inform either of the said Executors, or Mr. Thomas Spicer, Haberdasher, at the Three Pigeons and Mitre in Fleet Street, of such their Demand, and the Nature thereof, whether by Specialty, or otherwise, in order that they may receive immediate Satisfaction for the same, as the said Executors must very soon render an Account of the said Richard Drakeford's Estate to the Person or Persons claiming the same under his said Will.

ALL Persons who have any Demands upon the Estate of William Sheppard, late of Thames Street, London, Cheesemonger, deceased, are desired to prove their several Demands, and send the same to Mr. James Green, Attorney, in Tokenhouse Yard, London, before the 1st Day of September next, in order to the making a Dividend of his Estate and Effects, otherwise they will be excluded the Benefit of the said Dividend.

THE Creditors of George Brown, formerly of Norwich, but late of the Fleet Prison, Tallow Chandler, who was compelled out of the said Fleet Prison, at the last General Quarter Sessions of the Peace holden at Hicks's Hall, London, by Virtue of the late Act of Parliament made for Relief of Insolvent Debtors, are desired to meet at Bicknell's Coffee House in Cornhill, London, on Friday the 4th of September next, at Five o'Clock in the Evening, to chuse an Assignee or Assignees of his Estate and Effects.

THE Creditors who have proved their Debts under a Commission of Bankrupt awarded and issued against Henry Ihthoff and Nicholas Battier, of London, Merchants and Partners, are desired to meet the Assignees of the said Bankrupts Estate and Effects, on Thursday the 20th Day of this Instant August, at Eleven of the Clock in the Forenoon precisely, at the King's Arms Tavern in Cornhill, London, in order to assent to or dissent from the said Assignees their commencing one or more Suit or Suits at Law or in Equity relating to the Estate and Effects of the said Bankrupts, and to their submiting to Arbitration any Disputes concerning the same Estate and Effects.

THE Creditors of William Cordwell, Esq; late of Barnes in the County of Surry, lately discharged out of His Majesty's Prison of the Fleet, by Virtue of the late Act of Parliament made for Relief of Insolvent Debtors, are desired to meet at the Globe Tavern near Craven Street in the Strand, on Monday the 7th Day of September next, at Five of the Clock in the Afternoon, in order to empower the Assignees of the Estates and Effects of the said William Cordwell to make Composition with any Person or Persons Debtors or Accountants to the said William Cordwell, where the same shall appear necessary or reasonable; and upon other special Affairs.
